

free CITY CONNECTOR

EXPLORE ADELAIDE

FREE CITY SERVICES

The free City Connector bus service runs on two loops – an inner city loop and an extended loop around North Adelaide providing a link to popular attractions, shopping, dining and destinations.

The large loop (98A and 98C) connects North Adelaide and the city seven days a week, while the small loop (99A and 99C) connects the inner city areas on weekdays. Together the two loops provide a service every 15 minutes on weekdays.

The Free city tram takes you between the South Terrace tram stop, the Entertainment Centre, Botanic Gardens and Festival Plaza.

The Free city tram will also take you to the new Royal Adelaide Hospital and medical precinct at the west end of North Terrace.

Detailed route information available on the metroMATE app and the Adelaide Metro website

A JOINT INITIATIVE OF

KEY DESTINATIONS

Rundle Mall

Located in the north-eastern corner of the city, Rundle Mall boasts a diverse retail selection of fashion, beauty, lifestyle and food, and is the heart of South Australian shopping.

East End

Quirky retail mixes with high-end fashion, vintage and designer boutiques, with cafes, restaurants and pubs, travel agents, bars and cinemas.

West End

The West End encompasses the north-western part of the city and is home to entertainment venues, dining, casual bars, nightclubs, TAFE SA and the University of South Australia.

New Royal Adelaide Hospital and medical precinct

The New Royal Adelaide Hospital is located at the corner of North Terrace and West Terrace, at the western end of the city. Also located in this precinct is the South Australian Health and Medical Research Institute and Adelaide Dental Hospital.

Central Market and Chinatown

Located in the city's premier food district, Chinatown sits between Gouger and Grote Streets, next to the Adelaide Central Market, which supplies a diverse range of fresh produce to the precinct's restaurants, kitchens and food courts.

University and Cultural Precinct

North Terrace is home to Adelaide's most important political, cultural and educational institutions, including Old Parliament House, the South Australian Museum and the Art Gallery of South Australia.

Melbourne and O'Connell Streets

Upmarket shopping strips with designer fashion, dining, accommodation and lively hotels.

Hutt Street

Hutt Street provides a 'Village in the City' atmosphere, offering convenience and service with an eclectic mix of cafes, restaurants and hotels.

Adelaide Botanic Gardens

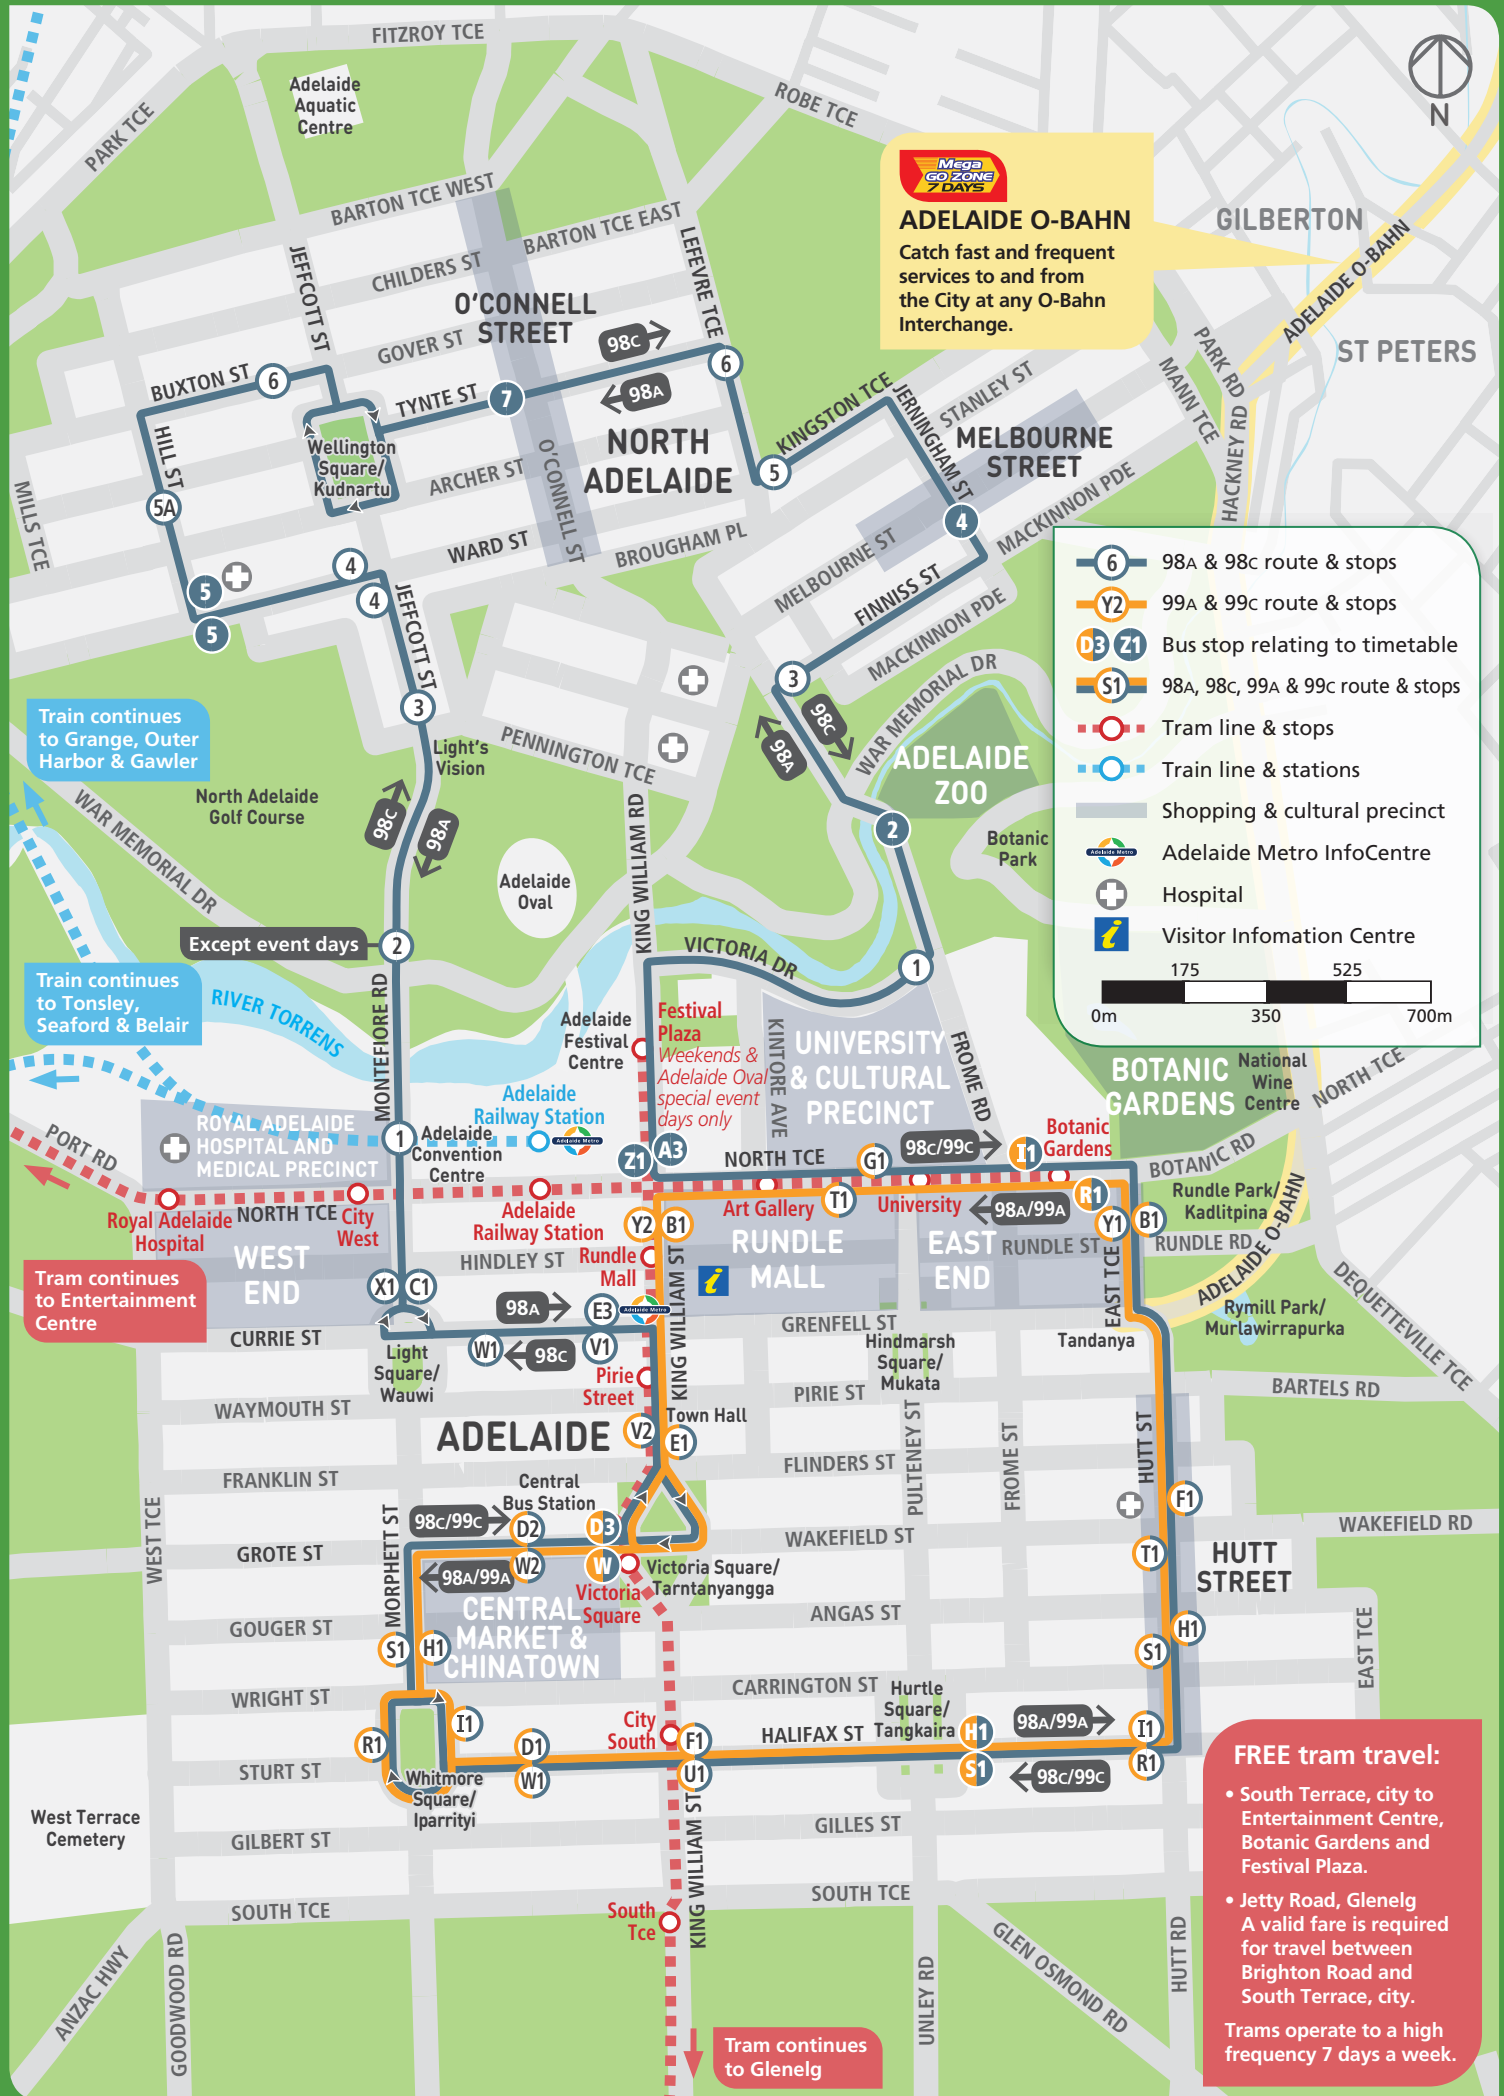

The Adelaide Botanic Gardens are a 51 hectare urban paradise located in the north-eastern corner of the city.
